U. F. A. MEETING

From the minutes of the Gleichen Farmers Union meeting held last Saturday afternoon as supplied by Secretary Trego it is gleaned that much interest was manifested and the membership augmented by five, namely, Otto Kerstein, F. H. Kimmel, C. A. Klipper, F. C. Inkster and L. Simonin. Another name submitted was tabled to await more information.

Five names being presented and a ballot taken N. N. Hayes proved the choice of the meeting for weed inspector.

Letters read showed that the Irrigation Committee had taken up the matter of the "Beneficial use of water in this climate" with Mr. Peters, commissioner of irrigation, and secured his promise to investigate the matter and take evidence of the farmers on this point before proceeding with the re-classification of irrigable lands in the western section of the irrigation block.

A letter from the Langdon secretary and one from the department of interior were read, along with the secretary's reply. From the hearty applause the latter met with entire approval.

A letter from Alfred Rawlins, the director for Gleichen riding, was read and the secretary's reply.

A petition drafted by the secretary was read and approved of and duly signed by all present. It was addressed to Premier Borden and Sir Wilfred Laurier and reads as follows:

Dear Sir:—

We, the undersigned members of this Union, wish to ask you to kindly state to us definitely what your position will be regarding the tariff on manufactured articles if you are returned to power.

We feel much more interested in free trade than in the naval question, which is occupying so much time at present:

Provincial Elections on April 17

During the past week many interesting items have been added to the making of political history in Alberta, until now the electors are called upon to exercise the use of their ballots on April 17th.

While the CALL was being printed last issue an act for re-distribution of seats became law in the Provincial Legislature, allowing 15 more members. Thus, while we now have only 41 M.P.'s, we are to have 56 to govern the destiny of this great province.

Naturally the re-distribution of seats set all politicians agog figuring how soon an election would be brought on, but their curiosity was satisfied on Tuesday afternoon when the House prorogued and an hour later the writs were issued calling for nominations on April 10th and elections one week later.

Although the time is short all were expecting it to be so and preparing for it. It is, however, rather short notice for the electors in distant parts of the province.

The re-distribution bill divides the former Gleichen constituency into three parts. The western section is cut off west of Shepard and is included in Calgary, where it has long been contended it rightfully belonged. From just west of Shepard the Gleichen constituency starts and continues to about six miles east of Gleichen town, just a little west of Cluny. It, however, cuts off some of the north and takes in part of the Queenstown district. From east of the new Gleichen constituency a new riding is formed to be known as Bow Valley and continues to east of Monogram.

Already the different parties are arraying their forces for battle and it is announced that in the Gleichen constituency the Conservatives will meet in convention at Strathmore on Saturday, March 29th, to nominate a candidate and the Liberals at Langdon on Wednesday, April 2nd, for the same purpose. Rumor also has it that the Farmers Union will support a Liberal candidate, but that an effort will be made to have a member of the Union nominated.

The names of likely candidates are numerous on all sides.

The Conservatives are anxious that Harold W. Riley should consent to represent this riding, but it seems doubtful that he will accept the nomination. They are not stuck for good men and the names of Wm. J. Campbell, Geo. McElroy, E. A. Wyndham and several others are mentioned.

The Liberals are also putting forth a number of names with J. A. McArthur most prominent. But John Clark, C. J. Bray, Roy Cown, J. Skeen and others are mentioned.

So far the only name mentioned as a likely Farmers Union candidate is Henry Sorensen, whom it is said will accept the nomination if he is chosen at the Liberal convention.

A motion was passed agreeing to continue patronizing the Ellison Milling & Elevator Co. so long as that firm supplied good goods at reasonable prices.

The Irrigation committee was instructed to vote for a change in the Fighting Fund contract "permitting owners of irrigable land to come in, or those who are already subscribers to have the option of having their contracts changed to read $1 per acre on irrigable area or leave it at 50c per acre for the entire contract as preferred.

H. W. Lee reported the sale of 10 more elevator shares and the question of organizing a rural municipality was brought up before adjourning until next Saturday.

CORRESPONDENCE

Editor CALL:

Dear Sir:—There was considerable talk sometime ago relative to the establishing of a customs office in Gleichen. As I have heard nothing of late as to what progress has been made, would ask that you devote a small space in your paper, relative to the troubles I have had in trying to get parcels from points in the States to Gleichen. I will relate just one of several instances and this has happened within the past sixty days.

I had a parcel consigned to me from Crookston, Minn., which is just 150 miles south of Winnipeg, on or about December 10th, last, on which the express had been prepaid. This parcel was not received until the first day of March—mail comes through in thirty hours. On or about the 15th day of December I received notice from the customs office at Medicine Hat stating they had a parcel consigned to me on which there was ten cents charged and instructing me to pay the amount of charges to the local station agent and goods would be forwarded. I did this and waited a week or more, when I took the matter up with the local agent and he again notified the Medicine Hat office. Some two or three weeks later I received a letter from the parties at Crookston, who had sent the parcel, stating that the customs house office at Medicine Hat had informed them that the party to whom the parcel was consigned could not be located and asked for instructions. Upon receipt of this I immediately wrote Medicine Hat that I had followed their instructions and asked them to forward parcel without delay. Some days later I received another notice; this time stating that there was $3.99 duty charges. I remitted the amount called for and some days later the parcel was received.

If I have been correctly informed there should be no duty charges on second hand articles or articles that have been worn and this happened to be an overcoat which I had left at home and had it forwarded to me. The coat had probably been worn two or three years.

I could relate two or more similar instances of this kind which have happened to me personally and I believe the amount of business done in Gleichen through the customs house warrants the establishing of a customs house in Gleichen.

Let us hear from others who have had like experiences.

Respectfully yours,

Wm. WALSH.

CHAPTER VI
The Forged Letter

My dear, said in a tone of mild rebuke an elderly lady who had followed Dora into the room, if Wilton is joking there is no need to impart the information to the whole street.

Dora twisted up her little face into a protesting grimace, laughed when her aunt frowned—there was nothing the thought Miss Rose disliked so much or thought so unlikely as the grimaces Dora was fond of making on every possible occasion—laughed again till her aunt had perforce to yield to the witchery of her merriment and smile herself, and then went dancing back towards Wilton Mayne. For Dora Rose was a young lady who seldom walked when she could run and never ran when she could dance.

That a man so prominent in intellectual and artistic circles as Wilton Mayne should have fallen in love with a girl who seemed to have little but her beauty and flow of youthful spirits to recommend her, was a fact which perhaps only surprised those knowing little of human nature and of the force of contrast. Left an orphan at an early age, Dora Rose had been brought up by her aunt, Miss Rose, and had first met Wilton Mayne at a small party of literary people at which she had attracted his attention by yawning so terribly and looking so extremely woe-begone that he had felt it nothing less than a duty to try to amuse her.

Discovering at once that Mr. Mayne whom she understood to be one of the lions of the party, was very like other men in his admiration for pretty eyes and bewitching smiles, she promptly lost all awe of all literary people, decided that they were just ordinary mortals, and asserting herself by the mere unconscious force of her youth and her joy in life, she very soon assumed her accustomed part as the admired of every one. What should have been a grave literary assembly devoted to the discussion of high ideals she succeeded in transforming into what perhaps may be best described in her own words, when, after it was all over, she remarked to her aunt that it had been a ripping time, and whoever would have thought those spectacled old Johnnies had so much fun in them?

Of all those who swore themselves her bounden slaves on that occasion none had made his devotion more apparent than Wilton Mayne; and his feeling towards her had rapidly ripened into a true and passionate devotion. At first she had hesitated, and she even shrank from his ardent wooing, frankly telling him that all the poetry bored her except when it was very sweet and full of loves and graves, and moonlight—which she wasn't, she interjected—and that she never had been clever and never would be, and didn't he think he ought to marry someone from Giltton? Dora went on to suggest that there was Lucy Cripps, who was an A.B. of something, and awfully clever; what did Mr. Mayne think of her, for example?

Mr. Mayne replied that he admired Miss Cripps very much; and then he proceeded to argue very seriously that poetry was not an affair of the intellect at all, but of emotions. Dora admitted, thoughtfully, that she had heaps of emotion; and if it was at first chiefly her vanity that was touched by her conquest of a man so different from the general run of her admirers, it was not long before her heart grew responsive to the love he offered her so freely.

So they became engaged, and for once the course of true love ran smoothly enough, for there appeared not even the shadow of an obstacle to impede their happiness.

All through her life Dora had laughed the whole day long; but now, if possible, she laughed still more from the sheer joy of her heart. Wilton Mayne, as he watched her, thought that no one had ever conceived so perfect a picture of joy in life and youth. The lines of that poem of his, "Laughing Youth," afterwards, perhaps the best known of all his writings, began to run in his head, and then Miss Rose remarked:

Well, if Wilton were joking just now, he seems solemn enough at present.

He always does, cried Dora happily, now, if I make a joke I always laugh so much I can't get it out, and no one knows what it is about. But when Wilton is funny he always looks more delightfully solemn than ever.

Perhaps, suggested Mayne, that is because I don't know I am funny—as for example, at present I had no idea I was making a joke.

Then what do you mean, asked Dora, picking up the photograph and walking towards her aunt with it. Aunt, isn't that Joan Durand?

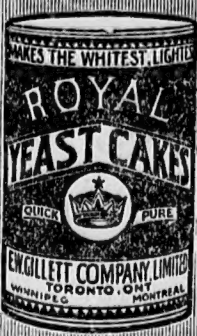

Undoubtedly, said Miss Rose, looking at it closely through her eyes.

glasses. Very well, said Dora with another ripple of laughter; and here is Wilton asking me if I know her, when twice over he has written to me in the most urgent manner asking us to call on her and be as civil as possible. And we have, haven't we, aunt? for we got her an invitation to Lady Martin's ball; and oh, Wilton, I'm going to wear a bluish pink chiffon, trimmed with silver lace and with a bodice of silver lace mounted on pink chiffon and filled in above with white—do you understand? she asked anxiously.

I understand you will be charming, he answered. And it'll just be a dream, she rattled on, dropping him a low curtsy in acknowledgment of his compliment, and then twirling round in a sort of little private preliminary dance, and it'll knock all the rest in the eye, too.

My dear, my dear, protested her horrified aunt. All right, auntie sweet, cried Dora, stopping her remonstrance with a kiss, and then giving a quick glance at Wilton as much as to ask whether he did not wish he had been in her aunt's place just then.

Yes, I do, said Wilton Mayne. I don't know what you mean, said Dora blushing.

My dear child, said her aunt, resolute to do her duty in spite of all blandishments, the tendency you show towards the use of slang is in a young girl.

Oh, auntie, interrupted Dora, why, only yesterday I heard you tell Lady Martin that no girl could be more free from the use of colloquial and unlady-like expression than me.

I know I said so, said Miss Rose, sticking to her guns valiantly, but I am sorry to say—

Oh, aunt, cried Dora, deeply shocked, you don't mean to confess you were telling Lady Martin fibes? But there, it was in a good cause, so I'll forgive you, and you need say no more about it, and Lady Martin is a horrid, stiff prim old thing, isn't she, not a bit like my own auntie sweet.

Oh, dear, groaned Miss Rose, half in resignation, half in despair, it is always the same when I try to scold her.

Well, I don't like being scolded, laughed Dora. Wilton, you'll never scold me, will you?

Never, promised Wilton promptly, but, dear, just be serious for a moment.

Oh, I can't, I can't, sang Dora in a kind of a chant; the world is full of serious people, do let me be frivolous just for a change.

Yes, but this Miss Durand, persisted Mayne.

Oh, we called yesterday, answered Dora, and I don't like her a bit. She is so grave and sad, and her eyes frighten me—they make me cold, they chill me. So I ran away as fast as I could—ugh, I always run away from sorrow.

Talk care, take care, child, said Miss Rose with a sudden gravity; take care lest when you run from sorrow you run so fast you meet it on the way.

There, now you are being solemn, protested Dora, looking as if she were going to cry on the spot. Don't let's be solemn—laugh, let us laugh; and throwing back her head she emitted a peal of laughter so free, so happy, so like the merriment of some delicious child as yet untouched by sorrow, that the other two could not help joining her. There, that's better, Dora cried, now we are happy again.

Yes, said Wilton pattingly, but Dora dear, do listen for one moment. What is this about this letter to Miss Durand? I know nothing of any letter about any Miss Durand.

But we have your letter, said Dora, looking puzzled, but with a smile lurking in her eyes and at the corners of her mouth as though she still suspected some hidden joke at which it was necessary she should be in instant readiness to laugh; it was so urgent and imperative, too.

Have you it with you? inquired Mayne, who by now was looking very troubled and disturbed indeed; may I see it?

Dora possessed, attached to the skirt of her dress, a hanging pocket, from which she now produced an extraordinary multiplicity of objects. First came a reel of silk and then an old glove; next a paper bag containing two ramer squashed chocolates, which Dora paused to eat lest she should forget them and so they were wasted; an unpaid bill; a five pound note neatly folded in four and tied round with black thread for safety, a silver thimble; a description of a recent fashionable wedding cut from the Morning Post, a piece of silk to be matched in Regent Street that afternoon; and finally the letter in question wedged in among several picture postcards.

Oh, here it is at last, she said with a sigh of relief, and proceeded to return her various possessions to her pocket.

Mayne took the letter and read it over slowly and with a very grave expression of countenance.

This is a forgery, he said; I never wrote this.

A forgery? the two ladies cried together, looking at him in bewilderment.

DRUGGED HIMSELF IN TUNNEL

Former English Army Officer Discovers Dead in Rather Strange Circumstances

London, England.—An ex-army officer's unsuccessful struggle to cure himself of the drug habit was described at an inquest at Gt. Dover, on Claude W. Lawrence Marshall, aged 41, of independent means, whose body was found in a railway. A broken hypodermic syringe and two empty drug bottles were found near the body. Dr. Marshall was formerly an officer in the South Staffordshire regiment.

Mrs. Marshall stated that her husband had been addicted to the drug habit for several years, taking morphine and cocaine. He broke off the habit last year for a time, but could not do without the drugs, and resumed them. She had known him to purpose of injecting morphine into his leg. He went into the tunnel because it was dark there, and he objected to making the injections in the light. He told her once that after he had injected morphine into his leg in the tunnel he became unconscious on the bridge just above. She thought that on this occasion he might have become unconscious in the tunnel. She once found him unconscious in a pit as a result of the drug. Mrs. Marshall added that her husband was very bright and showed no signs of suicide.

Evidence as to the finding of the body pointed to the fact that Mr. Marshall had his back against the wall of the railway tunnel and was leaning down injecting morphine into his leg when the train struck him; or else that he had made the injection and lost consciousness in that position at the time of the fatality.

It was said that members of Dover police force had frequently seen Mr. Marshall in the vicinity of the spot injecting morphine. It was mentioned that he had injected as much as sixty grains of morphine at a time.

The jury returned a verdict of death by misadventure.

THE KNOW HOW To Feed Children and Get Good Results

There are more nervous persons made so by undigested food lying in the stomach than the average individual would suppose.

If food remains undigested in the stomach, it begins to ferment, set up gas and a large portion is thus converted into poison.

That's why imperfectly digested food, may, and often does, cause irritation of the nerves and stupor of the mind—brain and nerves are really poisoned.

My daughter had complained for some time of a distressed feeling in the stomach, after eating, which set me thinking that her diet was not right," writes an anxious and intelligent mother.

"She had been fond of cereals, but had never tried Grape-Nuts. From reading the account of this predigested food, it seemed reasonable to try Grape-Nuts for her case.

"The results were really wonderful. The little brain that seemed at times unable to do its work, took on new life and vigor. Every morning, now, before going to school, she eats the cereal little morsels and is now completely and entirely well; she seems to have a new lease on life—no more distress in the stomach, nor headache, but sound and well every way." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont. Read "The Road to Wellville" in pkgs.

"There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true and full of human interest.

JURY ACQUIT A MURDERER

The Unwritten Law Viewed in France From Standpoint of Approval

Paris, France.—The assize court at Dijon, tried a former named Ernest Gauthier for the murder of a neighbor named Fufey, whom he surprised with his wife. Gauthier dealt his rival two blows with a spade and the man died the next day. The farmer also attacked his wife and then gave himself up to the police. Mme. Gauthier committed suicide a few days later.

At the trial, the judge mildly reproached Gauthier, and informed him that it would have been easy for him to obtain a divorce.

Addressing the jury, the public prosecutor said: Give him a few weeks in prison, a few days for the principle. After examining the facts and emphasizing the shortcomings of the dead woman, he concluded: Having regard to all the circumstances, would it not be better for you to exercise your sovereign right and pardon the accused?

The jury after a brief deliberation brought in a verdict of acquittal.

MYSTERIOUS MIDNIGHT TRAGEDY

Missing Artilleryman Believed to Have Been Murdered by Two Bluejackets

Malta.—At somewhere about midnight on Thursday two Maltese boatmen reported to the police that two bluejackets and an artilleryman had embarked on their craft for conveyance from Valetta to Sliema, and that when in mid-sea the sailors and the soldier quarreled, the former throwing the artilleryman overboard. A high-sea was running at the time and the sailors, by intimidation, prevented the boatmen from attempting to rescue the soldier.

On reaching the shore the sailors decamped, and the boatmen then returned to the spot where the soldier had been thrown overboard, but as their search proved fruitless they reported the matter to the police. All sailors' leave was stopped, and the boatmen were conveyed on board each warship and confronted with the men who had been given shore leave the previous night.

Both boatmen in turn identified William John Payne and Albert Woodcock, both able seamen belonging to the Royal Arthur, which arrived here on Friday en route for China. The missing artilleryman is Gunner Hourhane, of 65 Company of the Royal Garrison Artillery. He is 22 years old.

Both Payne and Woodcock have been arrested, and the Royal Arthur's departure has been delayed pending the magisterial inquiry, which is proceeding. Both prisoners have admitted having been in the boat in which a quarrel arose, saying that they made this statement because leave of all men had been stopped. Consequently they did not wish to sacrifice other men.

One of the prisoners in his statement to the ship's commander said: The soldier hit me and I hit him, and being drunk he overbalanced and fell out of the boat into the sea. Several witnesses from the Royal Arthur are being heard, and afterward the inquiry will be adjourned and the Royal Arthur will sail. The prisoners having admitted being on the boat will be remanded.

They Wanted to Hear It

Now, children, said the teacher to her kindergarten class, I want you all to be very quiet, so quiet in fact, that you could hear a pin drop.

Everything had quieted down nicely and the teacher was about to speak when a little voice in the rear of the school room squeaked forth: Go ahead, please, teacher, and let her drop.

Clean Stomach, Clear Mind.—The stomach is the workshop of the vital functions and when it gets out of order the whole system clogs in sympathy. The spirits flag, the mind droops and work becomes impossible.

The first care should be to restore healthful action of the stomach and the best preparation for that purpose is Parlee's Vegetable Pills. General use for years has won them a leading place in medicine. A trial will attest their value.

Minard's Liniment Relieves Neuralgia.

Cheerful Under Difficulties If you make any noise, threatened the holdup man, I'll stuff this handkerchief in your mouth!

The victim regarded it with a ghastly smile. Oh, that's such an old gag, he protested.

Probably there is nothing that will make a woman quite so happy as the possession of a thing her rival wants and can't afford.

TRIES TO STRANGLE JUDGE

Jurist Has Terrible Struggle With Camorrist He Had Just Sentenced

Naples.—An attempt has recently been made by a Camorrist prisoner to strangle a judge at the Naples criminal court recently. Two members of the Neapolitan Camorra, Spalanea and Guadagni, were found guilty of theft, and were each sentenced to sixteen months' imprisonment.

Immediately sentence was pronounced the prisoner Guadagni, a man of Herculean proportions, felled the two carabinieri who were on guard and escaped from the iron cage in which he was confined. He dashed toward the judge, and blacked the eye of a lawyer who attempted to stop him, while two ushers each received a blow on the nose.

There was a wild stampede from the court, and the president rose and wrapped himself in his robes as though uncertain whether to beat a retreat. The infuriated Camorrist clambered up to the judicial bench with amazing agility, and seized the assistant judge nearest to him. Cavaliere Vitelli, by the throat and attempted to throttle him. Both fell to the floor in the desperate struggle. Barristers and policemen endeavored to separate them, but several minutes elapsed before the grip of the prisoner could be released, and the man put in chains. The unfortunate judge when released was in a state of collapse.

The immensity of nature strikes every one with the same awed feeling. No, it doesn't. I took a girl to the circus once, and she told me she thought the hippopotamus was cute.

Weather Wise

In a certain town the local forecaster of the weather was so often wrong that his predictions became a standing joke, to his no small annoyance, for he was very sensitive. At length, in despair of living down his reputation, he asked headquarters to transfer him to another station.

A brief correspondence ensued.

Why, asked headquarters, do you wish to be transferred?

Because, the forecaster promptly replied, the climate doesn't agree with me.

Mr. Badgerton is here, sir, said the chief clerk. Shall I show him in?

No, replied the great organizer, let him wait in the ante-room for about three-quarters of an hour. He has a big proposition, but I am anxious to keep him from getting the idea that I consider it worth while.

The indications of worms are restlessness, grinding of the teeth, picking of the nose, extreme peevishness, often convulsions. Under these conditions the best remedy that can be got is Miller's Worm Powders. They will attack the worms as soon as administered and will grind them to atoms that pass away in the evacuations. The little sufferer will be immediately eased and a return of the attack will not be likely.

ZAM-BUK DOES CURE PILES

Mrs. C. Hangan, wife of the proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, 1001 St. James St., suffered from piles for years. Went to doctor after doctor in vain. Finally went to Spokane and had an operation. Twelve months afterwards she was as bad again. She says, "One day I read about Zam-Buk and thought I would try it. The first one or two boxes gave me more ease than anything else I had tried, so I went on with the treatment. In a short time I began to feel altogether different and better, and I saw that Zam-Buk was going to cure me. Well, I went on using it, and by the time I had used six boxes I was delighted to find myself entirely cured."

NEW TYPE OF SUBMARINE

England Has Designs of Vessels Capable of Crossing the Atlantic

London, England.—Naval development of a remarkable nature are taking place under the cloak of great secrecy. In the course of the next twelve months some astonishing details will become known regarding the changes in warship types, but there will be none more noteworthy than the development of the submarine.

An entirely new type of underwater craft, of considerable offensive power and capable of crossing the Atlantic at a high rate of speed, is being built for the British navy.

These craft will carry guns, but in addition they will have a broadside of torpedo tubes. Hitherto underwater craft have only mounted a couple, or at the most three tubes. The submarines of the E class were provided with four, but the newest vessels, it is understood, are designed to carry four twin 21-inch tubes. That is to say, they will be able to fire eight torpedoes.

The displacement of the new ships is at present a matter of secrecy; in some circles it is put at 1500 tons, in others much higher, but there is general agreement that the speed will not be less than twenty-five knots on the surface, which is the speed of the torpedo-boat destroyer of eight years ago. An armored belt and anti-aircraft guns will be other features of the new type and they will, of course be driven by internal combustion engines.

From this brief outline of the qualities of the new type it is at once apparent that the functions of the torpedo-boat destroyer are being usurped by the submarine.

It is not probable that the destroyer will at once drop out of our ship-building program. The new vessels are at present experimental, and must remain so for a couple of years or more.

In the meantime there are plans before the admiralty for a new kind of destroyer, plans for which may lead to an unprecedented move in regard to the contracting for the building of warships, and may give us a flotilla of above-water craft of a speed of forty knots and carrying several heavy quick-firing guns specially mounted for use against air-craft.

Side by side with these new types of submarines there will be built a number of small underwater vessels for purely coastal defense purposes. The first of these, at present called the X, is being built by Scott's Shipbuilding and Engineering Company at Greenock. This is a craft of only some 300 tons, with a surface speed of thirteen knots, similar to that of our earliest submarines.

More ships of each of these types will be allowed for in the forthcoming navy estimate.

A further batch of the new kind of cruisers, which Mr. Churchill last year described as light-armored, will also be allowed for. Eight of them are to be laid down during the year, differing only in minor details from the ships now building.

Particulars of the design of the new battleships—or, as they will in future come to be called, capital ships—are naturally not available for publication. There is every indication that they will be in most respects similar to the Queen Elizabeths of the current program, carrying eight of the 15-inch guns that throw a 1550 pound shell. They will have only oil fuel for steam-raising purposes and among their batteries will be a number of 3-inch guns on verticle mountings for use against aircraft.

A New Calendar

The calendar and the hours of the day seem to many of us almost like part of the natural and immutable order of things, and however much trouble the present indefensible system has caused, men have felt that it was rash—almost impious—to suggest a change of it. Give us back our eleven days, cried the mob when the Gregorian calendar was introduced into Great Britain. From the days of Julius Caesar to our own, he has been a bold reformer indeed who would suggest changes in the disorderly procession of the months. Now enters Moses B. Cotsworth of Victoria, B.C., with a proposal for a rational calendar. He would divide the year into thirteen months, each of twenty-eight days, which would leave one extra day in the year, and this he beautifully plans as a free day for every one—free from interest charges on money, the necessity to work the waste scale, etc. Then each month would commence on Sunday and the first, eighth, fifteenth and twenty-second days of each month would be Sundays. President Hadley of Yale is quoted as saying that the month of four weeks will come as a commercial necessity. The adjustment to the change would be very small compared to that necessitated when standard time was introduced on transcontinental railways. Mr. Cotsworth has literature to distribute, poking fun at the present system. If he wins, school children need no longer learn: Thirty days hath September.

The Growth of English

There are now 400,000 words in the English dictionary, exclusive of foreign languages. Back three centuries Shakespeare carried about in his head five times as many words as the dictionary then contained. Today it has a hundred words for every one which a good writer will use. The greatest gains in the number of words recorded within the last fifty years have, of course, come from a minute raking over of all accessible English documents and from special branches of human labor, particularly the sciences, in which changing conditions have made necessary hosts of new names.

Princess Confirmed

London.—Princess Mary, the only daughter of King George and Queen Mary, was confirmed by the Archbishop of Canterbury in the Chapel Royal at Buckingham Palace recently. Large crowds assembled outside the palace to witness the arrival of the Queen Mother Alexandra.

THEATREGOERS WIN STRIKE

Takes Just Nine Seconds for Manager to Surrender

Sydney.—Theatre-goers of Mount Gambier, in South Australia, went on strike recently.

The management of a travelling company demanded 2s. for admission. The visitors did not propose to pay more than 1s. and after a hasty consultation outside the entrance formed a theatre-goers' union. Pickets were stationed and within a few minutes 278 people—practically all who were there—had agreed not to pay the 2s.

The manager appeared at the doorway and refused to make the required reduction.

I'll give you till I count twenty said the newly elected president of the newest union, and after that our price will be 6d. instead of 1s. He counted slowly to nine and then the manager capitulated.

The strike was declared at an end and the quondam strikers trooped into the hall, and the union was dissolved after an existence of about twenty minutes.

Needles in China

The importation of needles at Chungking last year increased by 31,963,000 to 334,706,000. In many parts of the Province these are put to a use that is not, perhaps, generally known. It is customary to ornament the center of the roof ridge of a Chinese house with an elaborate plaster decoration—usually in the form of a design embodying the character fu, meaning happiness. To prevent this being damaged by the depredations of crows, large numbers of needles are stuck point upwards into the plaster while it is still soft.

MARCH WEATHER RHEUMATIC WEATHER

Victims Can Cure Themselves With Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

With the coming of March people who are afflicted with rheumatism begin to have unpleasant reminders of their trouble. The weather is changeable—balmy and springlike one day, raw, cold and piercing the next. It is such sudden changes of weather that sets the pangs and tortures of rheumatism, lumbago and sciatica going. But it must be borne in mind that although weather conditions start the pains, the trouble is deeply rooted in the blood, and can only be cured through the blood. All the lotions and liniments in the world can't cure rheumatism. Rubbing may seem to ease the pain while you are rubbing, but there its value ends. Only through the blood can you cure rheumatism. That's why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have so many thousands of cures of this trouble to their credit. The new rich blood which they actually make drives out the poisonous acid and rheumatism is vanquished. Among many sufferers from rheumatism who have been cured by this medicine is Miss Mary B. Kelly, South Dummer, Ont. Miss Kelly says: "Some time ago I had a very bad attack of rheumatism. At times I would be confined to bed for a couple of days and would seem almost paralyzed with the intense pain in my back and legs. At such times I could not walk and my joints were stiff and swollen. I consulted different doctors and took their medicine; but did not get more than temporary relief. At this time a neighbor advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I got a supply. After taking a few boxes I found they were greatly helping me, and I continued their use until the trouble completely disappeared. I can strongly recommend this medicine to others who suffer as I did from the pangs and tortures of rheumatism."

If you suffer from rheumatism, or any other disease of the blood, begin to cure yourself today with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Won Fame on Its Merits.—The unbounded popularity that Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil enjoys is not attributable to any elaborate advertising, for it has not been so advertised, but is entirely due to the merits of this Oil as a medicine. In every city, town and hamlet in the country it is sought after solely because of its good qualities.

Sure Proof

But are you sure, persisted the grouchy customer, that this 'ere stuff will cure my rheumatiz?

Ease That Sore Joint Nerviline Will Do It

The Champion Clog and Pedestal Dancer of Canada Tells How to Keep in Trim

Few men in his profession are better known than Mr. Thomas Hogan, of 27 Fortification Lane, Montreal, who writes:—"To limber up a stiff joint, to remove every sense of soreness from tired muscles I can tell you nothing compares with Nerviline. It is really a wonderful liniment, and I use it continually simply because I find it keeps the muscles and joints supple and entirely free from pain and stiffness. I earnestly recommend Nerviline to every person that requires to use a strong, penetrating, pain-subduing liniment."

For Rheumatism Nerviline is a wonder; for Sciatica it cures where others fail; for Lumbago, stiffness and cold, nothing surpasses it. Keep Nerviline handy—it's good to take inwardly, destroys internal pains quickly, and is just as good for outward application. Large family size bottle, 50c; small size, 25c; at all druggists and dealers or The Catarthone Co., Buffalo, N.Y.

I would like to talk to you about your typewriters, said the suave young salesman when he had been admitted to the private office of the magnate. Well, what have you got to say? How do you like the ones you have? Are they giving perfect satisfaction? I don't know anything about them. I have no time to consider such things.

But they play an important part in your business, I should think you would want to be sure that you had the best.

Talk to the general manager. I have no time to discuss typewriters with you. I never saw but one typewriter that interested me.

What kind was that, if I may ask. A slim brunette. I married her and have paid no attention to any other since.

What kind of a silo will yours be?

Wood—or Concrete?

If you were to build two silos—one of wood, the other of concrete—side by side, and then could see them as they will look after five years of service, you wouldn't have to think twice to decide which is the best material. In a few years more there wouldn't be much of the original wooden silo left—the repairing you'd have to do would be as troublesome and cost as much as the building of an entirely new one. But the passage of five, ten, fifteen or even twenty years will make no difference to the hard-as-rock wall of the concrete silo.

CONCRETE SILOS LAST FOREVER

WIND, rain, fire and lightning are alike defied by concrete. You need no insurance against its destruction, because it cannot be destroyed. Concrete silos are best for another reason. The concrete keeps the ensilage at an even temperature, so that it "cures" better, and therefore contains more food-value for your stock.

YOU CAN BUILD ONE YOURSELF

No matter whether you have ever used concrete or not, you can build a concrete silo. Our book, "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete," gives all the information you will need, not only about silos, but about scores of other uses for concrete on the farm. It isn't a catalogue, nor an advertising circular. A handsome book of 160 pages, well illustrated, and written for farmers. It is free. Just send your name and address on a postcard or in a letter and the book will be sent free by return mail.

GOLF AT OLYMPIC GAMES

English Cricket, However, Is Rejected at Berlin

Berlin.—Golf will appear for the first time in the Olympic Games program at Berlin in 1916. The schedule of events just drawn up by the German managerial committee states that the committee has decided to include golf, after rejecting cricket.

The committee has also determined as a special compliment to the great German gymnastic organizations, to give gymnastic experts a special place in the program for an exhibition of this German specialty. The teams will also meet in competition gymnasts from other countries.

Pretty, but Useless

Mrs. Hugh Fraser tells a story of a holiday spent in an out of the way part of Italy.

She had occasion to reward a countryman for some service with a gold coin. Apparently he had never seen such a thing before, for he looked at it dubiously for a moment and then said: It is very pretty, but I think I would rather have money, please.

When the same sum was counted out to him in silver he took it with loud protestations of gratitude and went away feeling, apparently, like a millionaire.

The actions of the man behind the big brass drum speak louder than his words.

Better stick to your own small line, my son. "Other fellow's business isn't all profit."

Call Office—Corner Gleichen Street and Fourth Avenue
P.O. Box 13 Telephone No. 215
W. PARK EVANS, Publisher and Proprietor.

Gleichen, Alberta, March 27, 1913

With this issue the CALL starts on its seventh year of publication. Six years ago March 21st the CALL came to the front for the first time and excepting two holidays has been doing the same once a week since. During that time the sheriff has been successfully dodged but on one occasion and then he remained only a few minutes. We have managed to make the paper double its original size and sometimes add another third. The number of subscribers increased from 0 until today our press runs off a little over 1,000. Yet it is not all sunshine. We have offended a few that we would rather be friendly with; yet only know two who are so mad or small they will not speak as we pass down the street. A few have threatened libel suits, yet no blue papers have reached this office on that account. The trouble boys from the banks arrive regularly and sometimes word comes "the manager wants to see you". However, we have had the great pleasure of watching Gleichen grow from a small village to an important town and the surrounding country fill up with the very best class of people, some of whom are kind enough to say the CALL has assisted in. We hope they are right, and also hope to and will strive to be of greater use during the year now started upon.

Evidently the Gleichen constituency will enjoy a three-cornered fight; and, if so, it will be easy for one party—"which?" is the question.

The Customs Office Petition.

Once more the CALL would draw special attention to the petition for a customs office in Gleichen and ask all of our readers and their friends to sign the attached and to return it to this office. It may be well here to explain that right after the next meeting of the Board of Trade all the petitions received up to that time will be sent to Ottawa, and, therefore, it is important that the lists be as complete as possible by April 8th. However, this will not complete the work by any means as the Board after that date will continue to send in the petitions as they arrive at the CALL office, so that no one need hesitate in sending in the petitions even though they may be late for the first lot sent in. The Board has had so many complaints of the difficulties the people coming here from other countries have in obtaining even the most trifling presents from their former homes that it has determined to work unrelentingly until the petition is granted.

By the request of the Gleichen and District Board of Trade below a copy of the petition to be sent to the Minister of Customs is produced and the Board asks all interested to sign below and return to the CALL office:

We, the undersigned citizens of Gleichen, and residents in the district tributary thereto, do humbly petition the Hon. John Dowsley Ried, M. D. Minister of Customs of the Dominion of Canada, to establish a customs office at the town of Gleichen, in the Province of Alberta for the following reasons:—

WE are so distantly situated from the present Customs Clearing Office, the delay in receiving merchandise causes great loss, especially in the case of perishable goods.

AND WHEREAS, we occupy a most central position, being situated on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and having tributary to us not only the district served by the C. P. R. branch lines from Langdon to Aeme, and Irricana to Bassano, but densely settled districts as far as sixty miles south, as well as being centrally located to handle the business of all towns east of Calgary and west of Medicine Hat.

GLEICHEN is the distributing point for a great many rural Post Offices, and the majority of the population is comprised of British and American settlers, which substantiates the fact that the quantity of merchandise coming from these countries, warrants the location of a customs office in this town.

THEREFORE, we your petitioners, shall continue to humbly pray that our request will be granted in the near future.

NAME	OCCUPATION	P. O. ADDRESS

The report in last issue of the school meeting has at least interested a few and it may be that for a time more interest will be taken in school affairs by the ratepayers. The meeting resulted in nothing very definite, but it did show that there are a number of fault-finders who evidently have not the stamina to face the public and learn whether or not the street reports or the convictions they have hastily expressed are correct. Horrors, this may seem knocking someone? Let us hope not. The next school board meeting will be quite public as it is to be held in the Town Hall on Monday, March 31st, where the last few have been held.

Provincial politics are becoming quite interesting once more in Alberta and some believe that an election may be announced even before the ink is dry on this paragraph. In this rapidly growing country nothing is impossible and we cannot find fault with either party followers or even the Farmers Unionists for getting busy.

With the advent of 1918 many new cars are noted on the Canadian markets. Both new and old show many refinements and improvements over 1912.

A car fitted with all the latest improvements.

CROP OF NEWS FROM OUELLETTEVILLE

Local Farmers Organize a Union.
Government Putting Road in First-Class Condition

(Our own Correspondent)

Don't think because you have not heard from us for some time that Ouelletteville is going off the map, because we are very much in evidence, and expect there will be something doing here in the coming season. We were coming to with the gophers but had to crawl back again for a time during the snow blizzard which came on from March 15th to 18th and now we come again smiling.

A local branch of the U.F.A. has been organized with the combined districts of Cluny and Ouelletteville. The first meeting was held on the March 1st and the roll of members numbered 40. Mr. W. Boyden is president, and Mr. R. O. Syke was nominated as secretary but on account of his isolated position, being located close to Crowfoot creek, his place will probably be filled by Gordon Muir. The association has hardly got on its feet yet, but as there are several very enthusiastic supporters of farmers' rights among the members great things may be expected from them in the near future.

A petition was sent from the Ouelletteville colony to Harold W. Riley last year, regarding the bad state of the main road which runs east and west four miles north of Gleichen along the C.P.R. telephone line and as a result of Mr. Riley's efforts work has already commenced to put the road in good shape, structures of bridges and culverts are completed and only waiting for the thaw to do the necessary grading. This will benefit the residents of Ouelletteville considerably and also the residents of the Ready-Made Farms further east, and incidentally, our friends in Gleichen will not have any excuse for not coming to visit us.

The ready-made farm colony situated east of Ouelletteville on the north, and east of Cluny on the south, is gradually being filled up. The following settlers having arrived since the new year:

Farm 66. Mr. and Mrs. Saddler and family and Mr. Howe from Coal Creek, B.C.

Farm 72. Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Brown and M. Holcome from Portland, Oregon.

Farm 73. Mr. and Mrs. Hurst and family, from Vancouver, B.C.

Several more families are expected to arrive from the States before the end of March.

I have too much respect for the space in your paper to give you a list of the fond mothers and fathers who have been made happy by additions to their family circle during the past year, suffice to say that any one who has not got a brand new baby in the house is decidedly out of fashion.

RECEIVED $1.02 FOR BARLEY

As a result of advice in marketing, given him through the Canadian Pacific Railway, Department of Natural Resources, Nick Taitinger, of Claresholm, has been able to sell his 1912 barley crop at a price that will net him fully 20 cents per bushel above prevailing market prices and at the same time establish a most profitable market for the barley crop of his district.

A short time ago Mr. Taitinger submitted a sample of his two-rowed Chevalier barley to the Agricultural Branch of the Natural Resources Department. The sample, which showed the crop to be of excellent quality, was immediately sent to Hugh Baird & Sons, one of the most famous maltsters in Great Britain. The firm replied that the barley was the kind they were looking for and offered $1.02 per bushel, which after carriage is deducted nets Mr. Taitinger about 70 cents per bushel.

Mr. Taitinger's crop took the championship at the last Dry Farming Congress and has been in great demand, his neighbors offering 75 to 80 cents per bushel for seed. The whole crop could have been disposed of at that price but Mr. Taitinger is looking to the future of the barley exporting industry of his district. So he divided his crop into two parts, one to export to the maltsters mentioned and the other to sell for seed in his district. With the shipping connection established through this shipment, Mr. Taitinger expects to be able next year to export a shipload of malting barley to the English firm.

The Agricultural Branch of the C. P. R. Department of Natural Resources is at all times willing to help any farmer in the marketing of his crop. All he has to do is to send in a small sample, about eight ounces, of his grain, with the government germination test. The service is absolutely free of charge.

It is disconcerting to learn that many of our citizens, whom we have been taught to pattern after, jaw their wives just like common mortals when things don't run smoothly around the house.

Kissing conveys deadly disease germs, and still none of the girls around Gleichen are dead ones. Now, girls, how do you account for that?

All hail the glorious spring.

"The Only Cure for Piles"

Writes Mr. Taylor in Telling His Experience With Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mr. M. Taylor.

Because Dr. Chase's Ointment brings almost immediate relief from the dreadful itching, burning, stinging sensations of piles, it is well worth the attention of everyone suffering from this annoying disease.

In most cases, even after years of standing, Dr. Chase's Ointment makes a thorough and lasting cure of itching, bleeding and protruding piles.

Mr. Maxwell Taylor, Charlottetown, P.E.I., writes: "To all sufferers from piles in any form I would recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment as the only cure. Over a year ago while in Boston I became afflicted with a dreadful itching. I went to a doctor, who gave me some ointment, which made me no better. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and by the use of two boxes I was entirely cured. You may publish this statement in order that other sufferers may profit by my experience."

Dr. Chase's Ointment can better prove its value by the relief it affords than by all the words we could use in its praise. 50 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

EX-SULTAN'S OPINION OF WOMEN

Turkish Woman His Ideal of What the Fair Sex Should be Like

Berlin, Germany.—Further interesting memoirs of Abdul Hamid, the former ex-sultan of Turkey, are published in the March number of Nord und Sud. By the courtesy of Professor Ludwig Stein, the editor, I am able to give the following extracts:

The memoirs deal principally with religious and moral questions. Abdul Hamid was in the habit every day during his long reign of dictating for some thirty minutes his private thoughts to Ali Bahri Bey, and the present publication is taken from this work. The memoirs have been translated from the original into German by Herr Heinz Botthmer, the Turkish consul in Berlin. Speaking of the status of women, the ex-Sultan says: Every man who has sense will deplore with me that women are given too much freedom, that they rule the salons, and are seen to walk about the streets, while men are slowly drifting to be their servants. I understand this is the case in America. Why do Europeans criticise our women? Are Turkish women not prettier and more moral than others.

In our country the woman belongs to the household, and belongs to one man alone. In Europe she has much too much freedom to remain a woman at all. If only half I have read in books and newspapers about womanhood in the west is true—well I pity the western men!

The former sultan appears to have been favorable to some reforms being introduced in Turkey, but these reforms, he says, must not be rushed on us. We want to go ahead, but haste is devilish, while leisure and afterthought are divine. He does not approve of young Turks going abroad for any length of time, he fears nothing as much as the poison of European civilization. Beware of ideas that come from the west! They are most dangerous for our country. When I see how happy our Moslems are, I feel I must oppose with all my power the coming of the European new spirit. This spirit poisons our souls and our character. Islam is not unfavorable to progress, but any progress must come from within, not from without.

Dealing with the present conditions of Islam, Abdul Hamid states: The Koran preaches virtue more effectively than any other religious work. Therefore Islam will in time be victorious in the whole world. Our trouble comes from the fact that our empire does not constitute a religious unity. We have too many Christians in our land. Only evil can be expected from the fact that more than one religion reigns in one country. Look what happens in Germany!

The salvation of Turkey can only be in deep religious belief. There lies our future. England, France, Russia are in my hands. One word from my lips will suffice to open a holy war (Tschibad). Then Christian nations will see their doom. That time has not come yet, but it is bound to come when millions of brave Moslems will shake off the yoke of the Glaur—$5,000,000 living in British colonies; 30,000,000 in Dutch colonies, etc. Two hundred and fifty millions pray every day for Allah and the Khalifa. Can one really think that the Moslem is a weak instrument in the concert of nations?

This rather bellicose statement is immediately followed by some thoughts about tolerance in Turkey, which, according to the ex-Sultan's opinion, is far greater there than anywhere else. He bitterly criticises the young offenders, who censure everything that is done in Turkey. These unfair pessimists are our worst enemies he says. Thanks to my secret police, I know exactly where they are to be found. Thank Allah our good people keep far from these eternal sowers of discontent. A real Moslem is always an optimist. The ex-sultan expresses his opinion on slavery as follows:

I have just received a petition from the anti-slavery congress asking me to suppress slavery in Turkey. I am surprised to see how little Europe knows about our customs and habits. How can the patriarchal relationship existing here between masters and servants be called slavery? The Koran compels us to treat our servants well, and our laws adequately protect the latter against any abuse of power at the hands of their masters. There is no slavery in my empire. A debarjeh (maid servant) in Turkey is happier than a maid in Europe. Why curse the slave merchants? They only secure servants for a certain time.

Many an abandoned child, dying of hunger in the street, has found its salvation at the hands of these so-called slave-merchants. Many girls have found good positions in families by this process, and some even have been married by pashas.

STATE HORSES FOR SALE

Motorcars Substituted by New President of France

Paris.—President Poincare has modernized the stables of the Elysee. He has come to the conclusion that in these days of motorcars there is no sense in spending the taxpayers' money on the upkeep of horses, old-fashioned carriages and expensive coachmen.

He has given orders for the sale of all the horses, except four in the stables of the Elysee; has dismissed the head coachman Troude, who on gala occasions, drove the presidential carriage with outriders, and then other coachmen and stable hands.

The four horses which are to be kept will very rarely be used by M. Poincare himself. They are for his wife's pleasure principally. It is not impossible that Mme. Poincare may ride in the Bois as an encouragement to Paris society not to let riding drop out of fashion.

Milkmaids in Switzerland make handkerchiefs of lace that readily sell for $5 apiece—some indeed for as much as $50 each.

In the spring the young man's fancy gets a hunch that he will have to get busy or there won't be any summer clothes for him.

KING OF HELLENES A VICTIM OF ASSASSIN'S BULLET

King George of Greece was Shot Down on Streets of Saloniki, and Ancient Nation is Plunged in Mourning—Prince Constantine Will Succeed to Throne.

Saloniki.—King George of Greece was assassinated while walking in the streets of Saloniki. The assassin was a Greek of low mentality, who gave his name as Aleko Schinas. He shot the king through the heart. The king was accompanied only by an aide, Lieut.-Col. Francoudis. The assassin came suddenly at him and fired one shot from a seven chamber revolver. The tragedy caused intense excitement. Schinas was seized immediately and overpowered. The wounded king was lifted into a carriage and taken to Papafio Hospital. He was still breathing, but died within half an hour.

Prince Nicholas, the king's third son, and other officers hurried to the hospital. Arriving first, Prince Nicholas summoned the officers and speaking in a voice choked with sobs said:

It is my deep grief to have to announce to you the death of our beloved king, and invite you to swear fidelity to your new sovereign, King Constantine.

Crown Prince Constantine, who succeeds King George, is at present at Janina. He is expected to come here with all possible speed.

The assassin of the king is an evil looking fellow about 40 years of age. Upon being arrested he refused to explain his motive for the crime. He declared that his name was Aleko Schinas, and in reply to an officer who asked him whether he had no pity for his country, answered that he was against governments.

Schinas maintained a perfectly impassive demeanor, which was suggestive of his being irresponsible for his actions.

Notwithstanding the rapidity with which the king received attention he was found to be dead on arrival at the hospital. Precautions were at once taken throughout the city and perfect order is being maintained.

The king fell into the arms of his aide when shot. Two soldiers ran up on hearing the firing, and helped to support him. He was placed in a carriage and efforts were made to stop the bleeding, but he breathed his last on the way to the hospital nearby. When Prince Nicholas had the officers to swear fealty to Constantine they shouted: Long live the King.

Prince Nicholas is the only member of the Royal family in Saloniki. Mourning emblems are displayed everywhere.

The Greek government has issued a proclamation announcing that the oath of fealty to King Constantine has been taken.

Since his triumphal entry into Saloniki, the king had been accustomed to take an afternoon walk to the famous White Tower or to the cavalry barracks in Lesser Karaburum. The king's confidence in the people was so great that he went about freely, accompanied only by a single eunuch. The danger of this custom was apparent to the members of his entourage, who repeatedly, but without avail, requested His Majesty to permit the presence of civil guards.

A few days ago four gendarmes were ordered to follow the king but their presence was considered so objectionable by His Majesty that the number was reduced to two. These followed at some distance.

Immigration Figures

Winnipeg.—Although the increase in the immigration into Canada during February was a little less than in the first month of the year, the figures show an increase of 11 per cent. over the corresponding month in 1912. In February, 1913, those entering Canada by way of the ocean ports totaled 6,776 as against 5,389 in the corresponding month last year—in other words an increase this year of 26 per cent. The total arrivals from the United States, on the other hand, shows a decrease of 3 per cent. compared with February, 1912. Last year the total was 5,752, while last month it only reached 5,572.

Canadian Teachers Welcomed to Jersey

London.—Jersey will give a very hearty welcome to the Canadian teachers, if they decide to accept the invitation to visit the Channel Islands this year.

Sir William Vernon, chief magistrate of Jersey, is taking a deep interest in the proposed visit, and arrangements are being made for municipal fetes, a battle of flowers and similar entertainments which are a charming feature of the life of these islands. It is hoped that the visitors may be able to spend a few days on each of these islands, and the authorities are combining to prepare an extensive programme of hospitality in honor of the Canadian teachers.

BANKERS WITHDRAW

United States Trio Will Not Go Into Loan to China

New York.—As a result of the statement by President Wilson that his administration would not request the American bankers heretofore interested in the negotiations for the six-power loan to China to continue to seek their share of the loan, the three banking houses in the so-called American group announced their withdrawal. The announcement followed a conference of the banking interests concerned at the offices of Morgan and Company.

Settlers Flocking In

Calgary, Alta.—Hundreds of settlers are flocking into the Peace River country daily, according to the statement of Provincial Publicity Commissioner Charles Hotchkiss. For the past 30 days every trail leading into the Grande Prairie country has been black with home-seekers, many of whom are taking in with them stock, farm implements and provisions enough to last for a year.

TO SPEND MILLION

Thousands of Which to go to Dominion Parks

Edmonton, Alta.—Seventy thousand dollars for improvements to Jasper Park, three hundred thousand dollars for improvements to Rocky Mountain Park, Banff Glacier and Yoho Park; twenty-five thousand for the construction of a motor road from Kananaskie to Banff, twenty-five thousand for developments to Buffalo Park, Wainwright, and fifteen thousand for similar work at Waterton Lake Park.

The foregoing figures, exclusive of the new bath house at Banff, represent the amount to be expended in Dominion Parks during the coming year. Besides these amounts, the Grand Trunk Pacific will construct a tourist hotel which will cost in the neighborhood of three-quarters of a million. It will be located at the Miette Hot Springs.

To Develop Coal Areas

Regina.—Hand in hand with the investigation into the practicability of diverting the water supply in the South Saskatchewan river is also to be instituted an investigation into the feasibility of generating power at the coal mines in Southern Saskatchewan and its distribution into the various centres of the province is also to be considered.

This work has been placed in the charge of A. J. McPherson, who has already arranged with S. M. Darling to install a test carbonizing plant at Estevan to try out a special method of treating the lignite coal to make it suitable for commercial purposes.

The scheme under way is to provide a means whereby this coal can be put on the market to meet competition of the coal from various other sources of supply. If the test proves successful, and Mr. McPherson has every hope that it will, it will be the means of developing the large resources in the way of low grade coal now existing throughout a large part of Saskatchewan. This work is an extension of the findings of the investigation made last year by H. Wynne-Roberts, and along the lines which were indicated to be most probably successful.

DOUBT BRITISH SUCCESS

U.S. Experts and Aeroplane Superiority in Britain's Army

Washington.—Aeroplane experts in the War and Navy Departments have scouted the idea that the British army has evolved a flying machine superior to any in the possession of other nations, as announced in the House of Commons by Colonel Seely, British Secretary of State for War. Captain Irvin Chambers, of the Bureau of Navigation of the Navy Department, was inclined to accord aeroplane honors to the French army experts. Officers in the signal corps of the army also expressed grave doubt that the British experts had made any revolutionary discoveries.

CHURCH AND STAGE

Protest Against Cramping Food into British Suffragettes

London.—At a public meeting, here strong public protests were registered against the forcible feeding of imprisoned suffragettes. The Bishop of Lincoln, who presided, declared that the suffrage movement was a grand demonstration of moral force against brute force.

Forbes Robertson, the actor-manager, asserted that forcible feeding would not be permitted in America.

George Bernard Shaw said it was illegal, but that Reginald McKenna, the Home Secretary, proposed to legalize it by act of parliament.

WEST IMPORTS STOCK

Decay of Ranching Exemplified by Considerable Imports

Moose Jaw, Sask.—As further evidence as to the decay of ranching in western Canada, J. D. Watson, representing J. A. McIntosh of Great Falls, Mont., has arrived here with 250 head of stock which he brought up from eastern Canada. Previously this year he brought three hundred head to Western Canada from Montana, and says there is another thousand head on order to supply the demands of packers and farmers. Last year, he brought 10 train loads of stock to help populate the farms and ranches of Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Bramwell Booth to Come

Toronto.—Bramwell Booth will make his first visit to Canada as commander in charge of the Salvation Army next fall, arriving here about November 1st. He will hold meetings in all important Salvation Army centres, with a special tour of Ontario, and make extensive inspection of the Canadian west with a view to more rapid immigration settlement. He will open new social working buildings at Fort William, Winnipeg and Calgary.

Australia Gives $10,000

Sydney, N.S.W.—The Federal Government has decided to make a contribution of $10,000 to the Scott Memorial Fund. The Prime Minister has received a letter from Commander Evans of the Terra Nova intimating the fact that it is the intention of members of the expedition to present the Commonwealth Government with complete records and publications of the expedition, including the history of the expedition written in Scott's own words.

To Meet Hon. G. E. Foster

Sydney, N.S.W.—Andrew Fisher, Premier of Australia, and the New Zealand Minister of Customs will meet the Canadian representative at the conference on trade reciprocity which takes place in Australia. A reciprocal agreement should be beneficial to both countries.

Fighting at Tchatalja

London.—A Constantinople dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says that the fighting at Tchatalja continues. The Turks have advanced about three miles north of Derkos and in the advance occupied many strategic points.

CANADA IN LONDON

FINEST SITE IN METROPOLIS FOR DOMINION GOVERNMENT

Earl Grey Secures an Option on Valuable Property to be Used for Dominion Government Buildings—A Permanent Exhibition of Canadian Products.

London.—The Improvements Committee of the London County Council announces that Earl Grey has asked in consideration of a payment of $15,000 a year, to be granted an option for three years of taking the Strand site on conditions to be hereafter arranged. The area involved is about 124,000 square feet, and is considered to be the finest site for the new Dominion Government building which was proposed some time ago.

We gather, proceed the committee, that Earl Grey's object in desiring the option is to secure time to examine the possibilities of using the site for imperial purposes, although he is not in a position at present to define the special character of the uses to which the site would be devoted, as he points out that a decision on so important a question can only be arrived at after full and careful consideration by the Governments of the various self-governing Dominions. In discussing the character of the uses to which the site could be devoted under his scheme he states that should these Governments approve, it would be possible for them to concentrate the Dominion Government offices, now widely distributed in different parts of London and also to provide accommodation in London for the commercial and social needs of the Dominions.

A feature of the scheme would be to secure a permanent, well kept and up-to-date exhibition of manufactured articles in use in the Dominions, combined with adequate facilities for enabling the home manufacturers to get into direct touch with Dominion customers. Another important effect of the realization of the scheme would be to focus the attention of the home consumer more effectively on the quality of the products of the Dominions.

Warns Outsiders Against Making Rash Rushes

Vancouver.—W. M. Ogilvie, M.E., of Ottawa, son of former governor of Klondike, has just returned from Silver Creek country where there is now a great stampede on. Scores of miners are going north by every steamer from Seattle and Vancouver. Mr. Ogilvie said: "I think it my duty to warn the people on the outside from being stampeded. Nothing has yet been proved and if work this spring is successful there will be lots of time to get in on the ground floor. The alleged discovery was made by Indians, who are poor prospectors and nobody has seen any of the gold they are supposed to have found. Several parties who hiked to the scenes told me that they returned without locating claims, the conditions being unfavorable owing to the snow fall."

Strike Fight on Railroad

Philadelphia.—A free fight between 100 strikers and half as many men who were at work, during which two trains were stoned, and a track foreman badly injured, marked the strike of the Pennsylvania Railroad trainmen. The fight occurred in Frankfort a suburb, and continued until the arrival of a squad of policemen. The train passing at the time of the fight had several windows smashed and the crew of a freight train were compelled to seek refuge in box cars.

Robbed the Royal Bank

New York.—William B. Trefry, the young Canadian bank clerk who started capitals of Europe by lavish expenditures, was sentenced to Sing Sing for four years. He pleaded guilty to forgeries by which he defrauded the New York branch of the Royal Bank of Canada out of many thousands. With the aid of a young woman whom he met in New York he spent all of his money in Europe in about a month and returned to New York, where he was arrested.

FAMOUS POLICE CHIEF

Louis Lepine, Prefect of Paris, Resigned After 20 Years Service

Paris.—Louis Lepine, the prefect of police, has resigned after 20 years of service. M. Lepine is 67 years old. After participation in the Franco-German war, he was called to the bar at Lyons, his birthplace, and in 1877 was appointed sub-prefect of the police. From 1888 to 1891 he was chief secretary of the prefect of police at Paris and in 1893 he succeeded M. Loz, as prefect of police.

M. Lepine was noted for his great activity during the troubles in Paris at the separation of church and state when he was continually on duty to suppress disturbances at the churches, which were occupied by militant congregations. He also attracted much attention by the aggressive manner in which he suppressed the gangs of apaches which for a time terrorized Paris, and he took a prominent part in the capture of the motor bandits whose organization was broken up last year.

Virtually every monarch or head of a state in Europe knew M. Lepine personally, for he was present at their arrivals and departures from the French capital and he took sole responsibility for the safety of these men. He was always in the best of the fighting when the recent labor demonstrations were in progress, or when the strikers got out of hand.

THE MARKET REPORT

Weekly Grain Letter Supplied by Thompson, Sons & Co., Grain Merchants, Winnipeg

Winnipeg, March 18.—The leading markets have been moderately active and while today's values are unchanged to a fraction higher than a week ago it has been fairly well indicated that considerable liquidation has been under way. The volume of wheat sold has not been especially large but sentiment has been gradually changing to the bear side under the evident accumulation of stocks and favorable crop reports. With the exception of export business which developed in the United States markets at opportune times to check weakness and inject rallying strength the news has been against holders. It seems hardly possible that Europe will continue to absorb the large shipments sent forward by exporting countries, but during the week Liverpool and Continental markets have held remarkably firm and the whole have not reflected the weakness on this side. Tight money and peace prospects may curtail purchasing power and cause reselling of merchants stocks but so far there is little indication of this as the general political disturbance and war scare madness that has been rampant in Europe for some months is still apparently smouldering and liable to break out again at any time. Apart from a continued export demand holders can only look forward to an impairment in the present almost perfect crop conditions in the United States winter wheat belt. That some impairment will take place either sooner or later is highly probable as according to the Modern Miller report this week the present outlook is the best in years. We give the Modern Miller report in full as we consider it is well worth noting at this time. "Crop conditions over most of the winter wheat belt continue favorable, in many localities the crop is said to be in almost perfect condition, and that there seldom has been a better prospect at the close of winter. The entire winter wheat growing area was practically bare of snow, but there was no cold weather either, and the plant therefore did not suffer. On the contrary the melting of the snow and the rains that fell during the week insure sufficient moisture to carry the plant along for some time. The milder weather has caused the wheat to show green, but there are no noticeable defects of winter killing and the crop is generally considered to be in the best possible condition for the spring season. The plant is hardy, well rooted and growing in a normal way. There are no indication of insect life." Foreign crop conditions have changed materially and nearly all the principal countries of the Eastern Hemisphere are enjoying favorable and seasonable weather. The only unfavorable condition is in France where there are complaints of the plant being thin and some damage by vermin. Russia reports that supplies of wheat are varying but generally moderate. An early opening of navigation is expected there. Weekly statistics continue to show a large primary movement in the U. S. States which keeps their visible supply from diminishing to any great extent even with reported export business going on. The world's visible supply according to Bradstreet's, increased 2,565,000 bushels for the week compared to an increase last year of 331,000 bushels. The amount of wheat on ocean passage amounts to 57,544,000 bushels as against 43,128,000 bushels a year ago. World's shipments were about as expected at 13,472,000 bushels. Last week they were 13,778,000 bushels and last year 10,768,000 bushels. Shipments from Russia and Danube are very light but it is expected they will increase as soon as navigation opens.

Future trading in the Winnipeg market has been more active. The difference in price between Minneapolis, Duluth and Winnipeg continues, the same as last week and if continued will have the effect of turning export business to the former markets. Cash wheat is in moderate demand, offerings being scarce. Exporters however claim that present values are out of line and consequently are doing no new business. Conditions at the Port William and Port Arthur terminals are somewhat better. The Canadian Northern expect to be unloading cars now at Port Arthur next week as their new storage tanks are almost completed. The Grand Trunk elevators have also been helping the Canadian Pacific Railway to unload some of their cars. Closing cash prices are as follows: 1 Northern 85 1/4; 2 Northern 82 1/4; 3 Northern 79 1/4; No. 4, 76 1/4; No. 5, 71; No. 6, 65; Feed, 56c; No. 1 Alberta Red Winter 86 1/4; 2 A.R. 83 1/4; 3 A.R. 80 1/4; Futures closed May, 87 1/4; July, 88 1/4; October, 86 1/4.

Oats.—The demand for oats has improved slightly although it is difficult to find buyers for the tough and lower grades. Today's values are 2 C.W. oats 31 1/4; 3 C.W. 29c; extra 1 feed, 30 1/4; 1 feed, 29 1/4; 2 feed, 25c; Futures closed May 33 1/4; July 34 1/4.

Barley.—There is a fair enquiry for 3 and 4 barley but feed and rejected grades are not wanted. Today's prices are No. 3 barley 47c; No. 4, 45c.

Dull and steady with prices %c. lower. Today's values are No. 1 N.W. flax, 108 1/4; 2 C.W. 106c; 3 C.W. 97c. Futures closed at May 111 1/4; July, 112 1/4; October, 117 1/4. All prices quoted above are for in store. Port William, Port Arthur or Duluth.

Toll of the Assassin Among the World
There is scarcely a country of the world that has not at some time felt the hand of the assassin. Emperors, kings, presidents, and statesmen have been slain by anarchists, persons disgruntled because of real or imaginary wrongs, fanatics, insane persons and political conspirators.

Since the year 1801 the toll of the assassin among world's rulers and presidents of republics is:
Paul, emperor of Russia, March 24, 1801.
Abraham Lincoln, president of the United States, April 14, 1865.
Abdul Aziz, sultan of Turkey, June 4, 1876.
James A. Garfield, president of the United States, July 2, 1881.
Sad Carnot, president of France, June 24, 1894.
Nasr-ed-Din, shah of Persia, May 1, 1896.
Bordab Idarte, president of Uruguay August 25, 1897.
Elizabeth, empress of Austria, September 10, 1898.
General Heras, president of the Dominican republic, July 26, 1899.
Humbert, king of Italy, July 29, 1900.
William McKinley, president of the United States, September 6, 1901.
Alexander, king of Serbia, June, 1902.
Gervae, queen of Serbia, July 1, 1902.
Carlos, king of Portugal, February 1, 1908.
Louis, crown prince of Portugal, February 1, 1908.

Saskatchewan Gains Award for Best Oats

Columbia, S.C.—Canada has just gained world-wide renown for its oats, the growers of this prize-winning cereal being J. C. Hill and Sons, Lloydminster, Sask., who have been awarded the Colorado Trophy for the best bushel of oats shown at the National Corn Exposition held here.

This prize of $1,000 was open for the whole of the North American continent. J. C. Hill and Sons are now famous as growers of prize oats, as they captured the $1,000 for the best bushel at the Columbus, Ohio, Corn Show last year. The family belongs to the Barr Colonists, and ten years ago, when they left London, they had absolutely no knowledge of farming. Since starting in the West, however, they have given up most of their time and ground to the growing of oats.

Now Walks Under Friedmann's Cure

Montreal.—Miss Marie Dubois, a 20-year-old girl, suffering from tuberculosis of neck and leg glands, who was confined to her bed for four months unable to rise until treated by Dr. Friedmann last week, has so far recovered as the result of his treatment that she can walk around, eat without difficulty, and is practically cured. All the swellings have disappeared. Doctors who have examined the case, pronounce it marvelous.

Cologne, Germany.—The European powers are preparing to demand from the Balkan allies a speedy termination of hostilities in European Turkey, according to an inspired despatch from Berlin to the Cologne Gazette.

Extreme Regret at Bryan's Speech

London.—Following up the Post's attack on Wm. Jennings Bryan, the American secretary of state, for his speech at the St. Patrick's Day banquet given by Irish Americans at Washington, recently, the "Standard" says:

If Mr. Bryan really expresses the views of the cabinet and the president, the relations between Great Britain and the United States may enter upon a phase which would be regarded with extreme regret by a majority of the sensible moderate persons of both countries.

The Standard describes Secretary Bryan's speech as a fine example of virulent and inflated nonsense which the inferior kind of demagogue talks when he wants to catch Irish votes.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON XIII.—FIRST QUARTER, FOR MARCH 30, 1913

Text of the Lesson, Comprehensive Quarterly Review—Read Heb. xi, 1-19—Golden Text, Ps. xxii, 4—Commentary by Rev. D. F. Stearns

Lesson I.—The Creation, Gen. i, 1. In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth. The Golden Text is a wondrous statement containing just seven Hebrew letters and tells the whole creation story, which is stated in other words in Ps. xxii, 6, 9; Heb. xi, 3. Gen. i, 2, tells of a great catastrophe which brought the earth into a condition of chaos, waste and void, from which it was delivered in six days by the Creator.

Lesson II.—Man the Crown of Creation, Gen. i, 26, 27; ii, 7, 9-15. Golden Text, Gen. i, 27, "God created man in His own image." After a great and perfect restoration God made man male and female, man from the dust and woman from a part of man, and gave them dominions over all the works of His hands. In these two chapters we have a perfect earth, after the restoration without sin or curse of any kind, and God in fellowship with man. We have also the institution of the Sabbath and marriage.

Lesson III.—Man's First Sin, Gen. iii, 1-22. Golden Text, John viii, 34, "Every one that cometh into the world is the servant of sin." Here we have the first mention of that old serpent, the devil, the first destructive critic questioning the word of God and the love of God and making God a liar. In the third chapter from the end of the Bible we have his final doom. In this lesson chapter we have also the first mention of a deliverer, the way of salvation and the future glory of the redeemed.

Lesson IV.—Cain and Abel, Gen. iv, 1-15. Golden Text, 1 John iii, 15, "Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer." Adam, having been taught the way of redemption and of approach to God (Gen. iii, 21), taught his children and their children. Abel believed God and came obediently, bringing his sacrifice. Cain was what might be called a Unitarian, having no use for the shedding of blood, but deemed the best he had would be acceptable. He was therefore rejected.

Lesson V.—The Flood, Gen. vi, 9-12; vii, 1-24. Golden Text, Rom. vi, 23, "The wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord." Cain turned his back upon God after he had killed his brother, and his descendants began to build cities, invent musical instruments, work in brass and iron and improve things generally, but all without God, and wickedness became so great that God had to cut off the race by a deluge, saving only Noah and his family.

Lesson VI.—God's Covenant With Noah, Gen. ix, 8-17. Golden Text, Gen. ix, 13, "I do set my bow in the cloud, and it shall be for a token of a covenant between me and the earth." The next destruction will be by fire at the end of this age, but we look for a new earth wherein dwelleth righteousness.

Lesson VII.—The Call of Abram, Gen. xii, 1-9. Golden Text, Gen. xii, 2, "I will bless thee and make thy name great, and be thou a blessing." Instead of dealing longer with the world, God separates a man, a family, a nation and in the present age a church, to be His special people through whom He may reveal Himself whom He may bless and make a blessing.

Lesson VIII.—Abram and Lot, Gen. xiii, 1-12. Golden Text, Prov. x, 22, "The blessing of Jehovah; it maketh rich, and He addeth no sorrow therewith." Abram found sorrow in Egypt, and Lot found sorrow in Sodom, but both were for the time out of fellowship. It was good for Abram to get back to Bethel and to find a resting place and altar at Hebron.

Lesson IX.—God's Covenant With Abraham, Gen. xv, 5-18. Golden Text, Heb. x, 23, "He is faithful that promised." Let no one pass by the wondrous story of Melchizedek nor fail to notice the many new words of this chapter—the first "Fear not," "Believe," "Righteousness" and many others.

Lesson X.—The Destruction of Sodom, Gen. xix, 12-17, 23-29. Golden Text, 11 Cor. vi, 17, "Come ye out from among them and be ye separate saith the Lord, and touch no unclean thing." The Lord Jesus referred to both the deluge and the destruction of Sodom and said that the end of this age will be similar as to sin and judgment.

Lesson XI.—The Text of Abraham's Faith, Gen. xxii, 1-13. Golden Text, Hos. vi, 6, "I desire goodness and not sacrifice and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings." Isaac was the promised seed in whom the promises were to be fulfilled, but God would have us rest in Himself regardless of what we see or feel.

Lesson XII.—Isaac and Rebekah, Gen. xxiv, 58-67. Golden Text, Prov. iii, 6, "In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He will direct thy path." Jesus Christ, risen from the dead, is now awaiting His bride, the church, the Lamb's wife, which the Holy Spirit is preparing by telling of the glory of God, and of Christ and the riches of Grace. Soon the gathering will be complete and our Isaac will welcome us home.

Queenstown News

The Farmers Union held a very well attended and enthusiastic meeting in the Pioneer school on Monday evening, March 17th. After the business meeting was over and supper partial of the young people danced until the small hours of the morning.

Briefly the business transacted was as follows:

Four new members joined the union. The secretary reported that two more cars of cedar posts and a second carload of flour had arrived at Cluny and were being unloaded by Mr. Forsyth. The secretary read a number of letters from manufacturers of fence wire and it was decided to purchase a carload of wire. Those present gave estimates of wire wanted and it was decided to wait until next meeting before ordering. The price of cord wood quoted from Olds proving satisfactory a car load was ordered. The president reported that the formaldehyde he ordered would be at Queenstown by next meeting—March 29. He also stated he had a letter from W. A. Buchanan, M. P., stating that the C. P. R. would only build 25 miles of new railway this year from Redlow north, bringing the road up to about Brunette.

A communication from the newly organized Union north of Cluny asking our farmers to subscribe for shares in the erection of a farmers co-operative elevator at Cluny was discussed and left over until next meeting after a committee was elected to obtain more information.

Our ladies are contemplating the formation a club for social entertainment. The horrid men are now wondering if they will be invited.
